

SOUL DESTINY BLUEPRINT

Discover the 2 Cosmic Keys to
Unlock Your Life's Purpose

RisingWoman.com

Imagine having a map that shows you exactly what you need to grow and thrive in life—and what's holding you back. That map exists in astrology, and it's found in two key points in your birth chart: Rahu (North Node) and Ketu (South Node)

This guide will help you:

- Understand what your Rahu and Ketu are.
- Learn how to find them in your birth chart.
- Discover what they mean for your personal growth.
- How transits to these parts of your chart lead to the biggest life events

By the end, you'll see how these points provide just a small glimpse of astrology's incredible insights. You'll also learn how to dive deeper into chart reading to transform your life and even help others find hope & understanding during the intense times we're in right now.

What Are Rahu and Ketu?

Rahu (North Node): Your Future Path

Rahu shows where your soul is meant to grow in this lifetime. It represents qualities and lessons that feel new, challenging, and sometimes uncomfortable. But leaning into your North Node helps you unlock your full potential.

Think of it like learning something brand new. It can feel scary or uncomfortable at first, but it leaves you feeling inspired and opens you up to new possibilities in your life.

Ketu (South Node): Your Comfort Zone

Ketu represents your past: habits, talents, and comfort zones you've mastered in past lives (or earlier in this one). While these traits feel easy and familiar, staying stuck here can prevent growth.

Think of it like a cozy blanket: It's comfortable and sometimes you just want to snuggle up here and close out the world, but it won't inspire you to explore and grow.

Finding Balance

The goal isn't to abandon your Ketu traits entirely or only move toward your Rahu. Instead, it's about integrating both sides of self, coming into the center. The key is to embrace your strengths from the past while courageously stepping into and embracing new parts of yourself and a brighter future.

How to Find Your Rahu and Ketu in Your Chart

Step 1: Use an Astrology Chart Calculator

To find your Rahu and Ketu, you'll need a copy of your birth chart. You can pull up your chart on RisingWoman.com/astrology-chart OR Astro.com

Step 2: Input Your Birth Details

Enter your:

- Date of birth
- Time of birth (accurate time is crucial!)
- Place of birth

Step 3: Locate the Nodes

Look for the symbols in your chart:

Rahu (North Node):  Ketu (South Node):

Each of these symbols will be located in a specific zodiac sign and house (opposite each other) in your astrology chart.

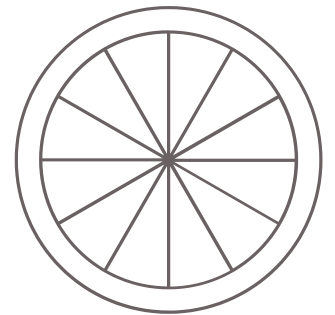

Understanding Your Soul's Journey

Once you've found the location of your Rahu and Ketu in your chart, here's how to create your blueprint, step-by-step:

Step 1: Find the House each node is located in:

Your chart is divided into 12 areas (houses), each representing a different part of life:

- 1st House: Self & identity
- 2nd House: Money & values
- 3rd House: Communication & learning
- ...and so on.

Your Rahu & Ketu will be in different houses, opposite each other. The theme of each house indicates the area of life you need to grow into and the area you need to move away from (ultimately finding balance between the 2 areas).

Step 2: Find the Sign each node is located in

The zodiac sign that your Rahu and Ketu are in adds another layer of meaning. It describes the qualities and energy you need to embrace (north node) and what to let go of (south node).

For example:

- North Node in Aries: Learn to be bold and independent.
- South Node in Aries: Focus less on yourself and learn to rely on others.
- North Node in Libra: Focus on relationships and harmony.
- South Node in Libra: Learn to let go of overfocus on relationships and others, codependency.

Step 3: Planets in Conjunction: Extra Focus

If a planet is close to your North or South Node, it adds an extra flavor to that area. For example:

- Mercury conjunct North Node: Growth through communication and learning.
- Venus conjunct South Node: Past-life gifts in love or creativity.

4. Stack the Layers

Combine the house, sign, and any nearby planets to create a full story. For example:

- North Node in Taurus, 2nd House, conjunct Mercury: Your growth involves mastering communication to build financial stability and self-worth.
